

“Magic is based on relationships and subtleties-on shape, number, patterns...”

- P. Fibonacci.

Fellow wizards, summer is coming to end! Before you return to the academy you must complete the required summer assignment.

Learn how to LOOK! See the magic!

Phew! Great train ride. Here we are at Hogsblanch Market. The assignment is under that spiral shaped object conical object.

Hogsblanch Market

The Hogsmeade Market intends to transmit its inventory via the World Wizarding Web with a new on-line catalog at www.hogsblanchmarket.com. The Academy's students are designing and entering the information that will be posted on the phantom catalogue pages. Each item will include an illustration, description and a name based on that description. Pricing will come later and is guaranteed to be fleeting, morphing and always elusive!

The group was given an array of items by the famous, finicky wizard and market purveyor, Pernickety Fibonacci!

Find the assorted market items. Observe, observe again, examine and then draw, describe and then name the items accordingly. Use your best intuitive magic senses.
